

Bill McComas

Bill McComas, a partner with Shapiro Sher Guinot & Sandler, counsels entrepreneurs, corporations, and non-profit organizations on general business and corporate law matters. In particular, he concentrates on assisting companies in creating, protecting, acquiring, developing, and commercializing technology. He has guided numerous emerging technology companies seeking to market, distribute, and commercialize their products and services. Bill represents clients on complex transactions such as joint venture, strategic alliances, research and development, electronic commerce, complex procurement, and the general management of intellectual property. An experienced corporate attorney, Bill also counsels companies on financing, mergers and acquisitions, sales of assets, and venture capital investments.

Throughout his career, Bill has been active with community, trade, and business organizations. As a mentor for the Washington/Baltimore chapter of the MIT Enterprise Forum and the Brown Entrepreneurship Program, he seeks to guide and advocate for creative entrepreneurs. He serves on the board of Maryland Volunteer Lawyers Services and the advisory board of the National Federation of the Blind. A former computer engineer, he is also a member of the Maryland State Bar Association's Technology Task Force. Bill is a graduate of Brown University and the University of Baltimore School of Law.
