

Julie Gabrielli

Gabrielli Design Studio (www.gabriellidesignstudio.com) focuses on sustainable design, as well as strategic sustainability for businesses and institutions, from mission clarification to cultural and physical environments. Past work includes green residential; owner advising; and LEED Rating System coordination.

Julie Gabrielli is currently a faculty advisor for the University of Maryland interdisciplinary design team for the 2007 Solar Decathlon house. Her work connects people and ideas to redefine our context, our legacy, and our future as part of the natural world.
